Joe Fuentes Improving

A serious skull fracture has complicated the condition of Joseph Fuentes, 18-year-old Redwood City boy who was injured when he fell under a San Francisco-bound train early Monday morning, Dr. Ralph D. Howe, attending physician declared Tuesday.

Dr. Howe said that the boy was improving but not out of danger because of the head injury.

Fuentes, according to the reports of witnesses, ran out of the station and caught the hand rail of the car before the train started to move but slipped and fell under the wheels. His right leg was severed between the ankle and the knee. The youth was taken to the Palo Alto Hospital for surgery.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuentes, 415 Fourth Ave., and was employed at the Bethlehem Steel Co., at South San Francisco. Previous to that he had been working for the National Motor Bearing Co. for about a year and had also assisted his father, who is a gardener at the Albert Ickelson Estate, 231 Arlington Rd.

Red Cross Training Courses Terminated

No further training courses for the Hospital and Recreation Corps will be offered at Dibble General Hospital until Fall, Mrs. W. A. Baxter, of the Redwood City chapter of the American Red Cross announced Wednesday.

More than 200 women are enrolled in the short four-hour course now being given to train for hostesses in connection with Red Cross recreational activities for patients at the hospital. Application forms had been issued for women who wished to take a later course originally planned, but it has now been found that no further trainees will be needed, Mrs. Baxter said.

S.M. County Pays More to Needy Aged

Relief paid to the needy aged in San Mateo County during March of this year was $56,929, the California Taxpayers' Assn. announced Tuesday. This total is $13,756 over the total paid out last March.

The number of cases was 1,248, 54 over the number on the roll in 1942, the year in which relief for the needy aged reached its peak in the state.

Average aid per person in the county was $45.62, a little under the state figure which was $47.14.

Supervisors Approve Merit Raises for County Employes

Little chance of whittling down the budget for salaries of county employes for the fiscal year 1944-45 was seen today following approval by the board of supervisors Tuesday afternoon of a budget submitted by the civil service commission.

Date of public hearing on the salary ordinance is expected to be set at the next meeting of the supervisors. The civil service commission submitted the budget to the supervisors a week ago.

It was announced at County Controller Thomas J. Kane's office that there is substantially no change in the status of the salary ordinance following Tuesday's meeting from the figures presented in the Tribune Apr. 25.

Among items approved by the supervisors were merit raises for county employes, the doubling of war bonuses to $20 a month for each employe and new positions in the classified service.

Supervisors Chmn. Fred E. Beer explained that some of the so-called new positions were not new positions at all, but merely transfers to civil service commission jurisdiction. Some of the positions were classified as extra help during the 1943-44 fiscal year, he pointed out.

Increases in pay to county employes total $128,541. Of this amount, approximately $50,232 represents the cost of doubling the $10 a month war bonus paid to county employes during the past year; $52,212 represents merit increases within the salary ranges, and approximately $26,000 represents new positions, reclassifications and promotions, and changes in salary ranges.

Budget requests, including salary roll, maintenance and operation costs for 1944-45, total $2,775,206.69.

HELD FOR AUTO THEFT

Two San Francisco youths, Sylvester W. Gibson Jr., 19, and Harold Mayfield, 18, were held in the county jail here Monday on charges of stealing an automobile in San Francisco. The pair was arrested at 2:30 a.m. today by California Highway patrolmen. The car was stolen at 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

Auto Strikes, Kills Woman; Driver Held

Mrs. Anna Bingham, 3735 Dalbergia St., San Diego, was struck by a car at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday at El Camino near the intersection of Manzanita St., and was pronounced dead upon arrival at Palo Alto Hospital, where she was taken by ambulance, Redwood City police reported. Grover C. Brown, 59, 65 Middlefield Rd., North Fair Oaks, driver of the car, is being held on a charge of driving without an operator's license, and for investigation by the district attorney's office.

Mrs. Bingham, who was 52, arrived in Redwood City about six days ago to visit her son, John Harris, 115 Birch St., Hammond Aircraft employe. She was crossing El Camino Real from the west side of the highway when she was struck by the automobile, which was traveling north, police said. She apparently was hurled several feet by the impact, according to police.

Cause of death, according to Dep. Coroner L. E. Franklin, was multiple fractures, shock and hemorrhage. An autopsy will be held.

Brown told police that his license had been revoked for drunken driving.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Bingham at Franklin & Crowe Mortuary will be announced upon the arrival of her husband, B. Bingham, from San Diego. Besides her son, John, she leaves a son, Paul Harris, and a daughter, Jean, of Missouri; a daughter, Mrs. Kay Eberhardt, in Brunswick, Me., and a son, Lt. Edgar Hamilton, of the U. S. Army Air Corps. Port Commission Buys Land From Harbor Land Co.

The Redwood City Board of Port Commission Tuesday approved the purchase of 30 acres of harbor land adjoining the Port of Redwood City, at a cost of $60,000 from the Redwood Harbor Land Co. The land previously rented by the commission, is a part of the port taken over by the navy Monday morning.

Meanwhile, the navy is going ahead with plans for building a naval depot at the port and has issued a call for bids for the construction which will total $300,000 and include rock surfacing of the port and installation of additional rail facilities.

At the board meeting recently it was agreed to pay off bonds due June 30 and totalling $8000 including $5400 interest. This marked the first time bond redemption was made without inclusion of the tax rate.

The board made further plans for continued negotiation with the navy in an effort to establish outside of court, a rental price for the port. The navy has offered $36,000 annually.

With the navy taking charge of the port office Monday morning, the commission has rented a new office in the Stafford Building for the duration.

Dr. Howe Proposes Hospital

Dr. Ralph D. Howe Monday submitted to the Redwood City Council an application to open a new maternity hospital at 3004 Broadway St.

In the application, Dr. Howe pointed out the crowded hospital facilities in the county and stated that it was with hopes of helping to alleviate this condition that he submitted his application.

According to the application, the 10-bed maternity ward would be aperated and owned by Dr. Howe.

Without comment on the application, the council referred the application to the planning commission with the request that they hold a meeting with people living near 3004 Broadway who might object.

The council took further action in their "clean up the city" drive when at the motion of Councilman Floyd D. Granger, the council voted to submit an order to show cause to owners of 10 buildings which had been submitted to the council at the previous meeting and declared in violation of the fire, health or building codes by Fire Chief Mark Ryan, Bldg. Insp. Laurie Duncan and Health Insp. Emil Stein.

According to provisions of the order to show cause, the owners will have to appear at the next meeting if they wish to protest and to avert further abatement proceedings.

The motion was passed over the dissention of Councilman George McNulty and without a vote from Councilman Evans Fletcher after City Mgr. Robert Mead declared that the buildings were now in "hazardous condition" and recommended immediate action. Councilman Fletcher objected on grounds that all the councilmen had not had an opportunity to inspect the buildings while McNulty dissented after stating that he knew that one of the property owners was sick and could not either clean up the building or answer the order to show cause.

A report from Health Inspector Stein indicated that a move is also underway to clean up East Fuller St., where, according to Stein, "seven families are living under improper sanitary conditions."

City Atty. Paul McCarthy gave a report on the bus hearing which ended here Monday and stated the facts submitted by the three interested bus lines, making applications.

McCarthy also reported that the city attorneys of the county would meet in the near future to draw up a uniform code regulating the cutting up of houses into one and two-room apartments.

The council adopted a resolution entering into an agreement with the state in regard to civilian defense operations in accordance with a request from James S. Dean, state finance director of the CD. The letter stated that the state was contributing $360.15 to the city CD for maintainence of telephone service from June 1, 1943, to June 30, 1944.

Upon the recommendation of City Manager Mead and the motion of Councilman Harold Anderson, the council voted to continue the victory garden water rates as in 1943 with Dec. 1, 1944, set as a deadline for applications for rebates.

Eugene Hoffman was unanimously elected to succeed Joseph Corbett on the board of review. Hoffman was nominated by Councilman Britschgi.

Mrs. T. D. Hollenberg appealed to the council to be allowed to continue renting two small apartments at 35 Hudson St. Mrs. Hollenberg stated that a navy man and a war worker were now occupying the place. The council instructed Mrs. Hollenberg that they must conform with the uniform building code and if her house did not meet those requirements, it would be necessary that the council continue action.

At the motion of Councilman Granger, the council voted to purchase a new flag.

Objecting to the appointment of City Treasurer Ralph Dodge as city auditor on grounds that it destroyed a check and balance, Councilman C. C. Armstrong made a motion that the appointment of Dodge as city auditor be rescinded but later withdrew the motion and the matter was placed on the agenda.

City Manager Mead reported that weed abatement had begun yesterday and was proceeding satisfactorily.

An application from 2nd Lt. Helen Scheele, WAC recruiting officer, to place a WAC recruiting banner across Broadway was refused by the council.

The council approved an application by Vera B. Norval for a renewal of license to operate the Broadway Cafe, with the provision that Health Inspector Stein gives a final inspection of sanitary conditions.

The San Carlos Pilgrim Fellowship was granted a new date to hold their rummage sale.

Dance permits were issued to Court Madrone 159 and Howard Frederic.

Priorities committee: Harold Anderson, Carl Britschgi, George W. McNulty.

Finance committee: C. C. Armstrong, Evans Fletcher, Floyd Granger.

Insurance committee: Evans Fletcher, C. C. Armstrong.

Real Estate committee: George McNulty, Carl Britschgi.

Fire Damages East P.A. Home

Fire, believed to have started from a defective motor in an electric refrigerator, caused damage estimated at $150 to the kitchen at the home of F. H. Brashaer, 2326 Ralmar Ave., East Palo Alto Tuesday afternoon, the Menlo Park Fire Dept. reported today.

Mr. and Mrs. Brashear were absent from home, and the fire was reported by neighbors. When firemen arrived, the kitchen was in flames and the heat was intense. Firemen believed the fire had been burning for about an hour. The refrigerator was ruined, they said, holes were burned in the linoleum and in the ceiling, and kitchen furniture was damaged.

Navy Takes Over Port Of Redwood

As scheduled, the U. S. Navy took over the Port of Redwood City at 12:01 Monday morning, A. A. Moran, port manager stated today.

The right of immediate possession was granted to the navy last Friday in the San Francisco U. S. District Court, after the filing of condemnation proceedings against the Board of Port Commission.

In taking over the port, naval authorities instructed workers at the port to remain on the job.

The order granting the navy the right of immediate possession and the subsequent confirmation by authorities of a naval depot to be completed at a cost of $300,000, climaxed several months of negotiation between the navy and the Board of Port Commission.

The negotiations reached a deadlock when the navy offered $36,000 rental for the port which the board felt was "wholly inadequate" and demanded, according to unofficial reports, near twice that amount.

In an effort to prove their point, the board has hired two industrial appraisers from Oakland to appraise the port and the findings will be used when negotiations are resumed. If another deadlock is reached, Port Atty. Paul McCarthy stated that the board will file an answer to the condemnation proceedings asking that the court set the rental price.

In taking over the port, the navy will maintain the entire personnel working at the port prior to the change. No construction has been begun yet. According to plans, installation of additional rail service and rock surfacing will be included in the construction.

The depot will extend to within 100 feet of the boat lines, and will not affect the operation of the Redwood City Yacht Harbor.

The first recorded strike in America took place in 1786 when Philadelphia journeymen printers quit to enforce demands for a minimum scale of $6 a week.

Train Severs Leg of R.C. Youth

Joseph Fuentes, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuentes, 415 Fourth Ave., had his right leg severed between the ankle and the knee when he fell under the wheels of the 6:37 San Francisco-bound train as it pulled out of the Southern Pacific station here this morning, police reported. He was taken to Palo Alto Hospital.

Stanley Larson, 2815 El Camino Real and William Holt, 529 Roosevelt Ave., newsboys who were on the platform at the time, said Fuentes ran out of the depot, caught the grabiron before the train started to move, but lost his hold and slipped beneath the train as it got under way.

The youth attended Sequoia High School for a year but left to assist his father, who is a gardener on the Albert Ickelson Estate, 231 Arlington Rd. He was employed by the National Motor Bearing Co. for about a year, and has since been working for the Bethlehem Steel Co., at South San Francisco.

Dead since Thursday is Ethel C. Haydon, 47, 1392 Funston St., San Francisco, a saleslady in a candy store. Her body was found by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Koibe, who told the coroner's office that she had been missing since Wednesday when she left home depressed. Many More Tires For 'B', 'C' Motorists

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There will be 14,491 new tires to be rationed to "B" and "C" motorists in 16 Northern California counties this month, compared to 1395 distributed to "C" card drivers in April, the OPA said this week.

Additionally, there will be a supply of grade three used tires for "A" bookholders.

The OPA emphasized that all motorists seeking either new or used tires still must obtain ration certificates from their War Price and Rationing Boards before dealers can sell them tires of any kind.

Holder of "A" books, who can qualify for used tires, will receive ration certificates for them only as long as there is a used tire supply available in their areas.

Officials Plan USO for Negroes

SAN MATEO—A colored USO for San Mateo was given the nod by regional USO officials, who spent Tuesday afternoon investigating the need, but a delay loomed for the materialization of the project as a location was sought.

Following a meeting of the Three Cities War Problems Board, last Friday, when a move was initiated for a USO house in San Mateo for colored service men, two regional USO men spent Tuesday in San Mateo going over the plans with local officials. The group included Laurence Johnson, regional director and West Coast representative of the USO mobile service, and Cecil M. George, recreation field director and a representative of the Federal Security Agency.

One of the sites currently under investigation is the Japanese school building in San Mateo, used to store personal possessions of local Japanese now in relocation centers.

Should all efforts fail to get a building, it was announced that regional USO men would seek federal funds to construct a new USO house in San Mateo for negroes.

Greyhound Superintendent Takes Stand as Bus Hearing Continues

R. E. Thomas, superintendent of transportation for the Pacific Greyhound Lines, today said the traffic hazard involved in the left-hand turn off from El Camino Real into Ravenswood Ave. was one reason why a "loop" service around Dibble Hospital would not be an acceptable substitute for service on Middlefield Rd. Thomas was on the stand in connection with the company's application for permission to operate its busses over Middlefield Rd., which was heard by Frank W. Clark of the State Railroad Commission in the supervisors' chambers at the court house.

W. C. Black, city attorney for Atherton, representing the people of that district in opposition to the alternate proposal on Wednesday, the first day of the hearing.

Another alternate proposal suggested by Black to keep busses off from Middlefield Rd. was that the Greyhound Line run special busses on El Camino Real, with Dibble Hospital as the only stop between Palo Alto and Redwood City. To this, Thomas presented two objections. First, he said, present customers would object to being passed up by the special buses. Secondly, he said, limited service vehicles had been taken off the El Camina Real route at the request of the Office of Defense Transportation.

John E. Farrell, Atherton chief of police, put on the stand by Black, said he "would rather drive on El Camino Real and cross the traffic at Ravenswood Ave. than drive on Middlefield Rd." He cited depressions on Middlefield Rd. which impair visability, and narrowness on both the highway and the solid shoulder as among the traffic hazards on that route.

Paul A. McCarthy, city attorney of Redwood City, told Clark that the city council, at a special meeting recently, declared opposition to the operation of Greyhound busses on city streets, including Middlefield Rd. within the city limits. It was the opinion of the council that the best public interest would be served by keeping Greyhound busses off Middlefield Rd. as far as possible, he said. No objection, however, was raised to the one bus the Greyhound now operates within the city.

At Wednesday's session, which was continued, Greyhound counsel asked for consolidation of that line's application with that of the Redwood City Bus Line, which is asking lifting of restrictions in the present franchise to permit of terminal to terminal service between Palo Alto and Redwood City. Clark gave his approval to the request.

Bullock Awaits Official Notice

Joseph J. Bullock, Redwood City attorney, said Monday he awaited an official notice from the State Supreme Court on its decision upholding the death sentence imposed upon Florenzio (Frank) Alcalde by the Santa Clara County Superior Court before taking action to get a rehearing.

Bullock held a conference with Alcalde's father, Frank Alcalde of San Bruno, yesterday. The younger Alcalde was convicted of murdering Bernice Curtis, San Francisco cigar store clerk, and throwing her body into a vacant lot on Alma St., Palo Alto.

San Carlos Masons To Sponsor Troop

Boy Scout troop 153, with the annual renewal of its charter this month, will be sponsored by the San Carlos Masonic Club. The Masons will succeed a group of San Carlos citizens who served both as sponsor and troop committee in 1943.

The change is in accordance with a suggestion from the San Mateo County Council which has urged that permanent, active organizations sponsor scout troops. Members of the former sponsor group have been asked to serve on the troop committee for 1944. They include B. O. Wheeler, P. H. Kent, S. A. Fryer and H. A. Glaves. New members are M. F. Duxbury, J. W. Luby, Larry Horning and G. L. Ritchey.

'Wrecking Crew' Takes Over

By "THE WRECKING CREW"
(Pinch-hitting for Joe Caboose)

The sun shines bright on Brewster,
And gaily children play;
But there's sadness out on Clinton—
Joe Caboose has moved away.

Which is the way the wrecking crew has of telling the thousands of Caboose readers that the great man and his family have moved from 1166 Clinton St. to 634 Brewster Ave., and while we sympathize with the good folks of Clinton and congratulate those of Brewster, we—the wrecking crew—want to apologize to Caboose readers for the writing of this column, as we would not dare try to fill the great one's shoes.

Just before he passed out Saturday evening, a floor lamp under each arm, Caboose yelled: "If there is going to be a Commuter column Monday, somebody else will have to write it." That's when the wrecking crew took over. Twenty-four hours later, when he regained consciousness, Caboose still refused to edit the column. But he issued the following statement on the subject of moving:

"When a family has lived 10 years or more in the same house, it's a mistake to move. They should either burn the place down or walk off and leave it. They say a man's accumulation is the measure of his wealth. If that is true, Caboose is a millionnaire. You never saw such an accumulation of non-essential, un-important, outdated junk in your life. The trouble is, we hauled most of it to the wrong yard. And we think the squirrels are crazy!

"Toward evening of moving day, when fatigue turned to numbness, we began to hate each and every item—not only the ones the children brought home from the creek bed and the neighbors' back yards, but the stuff we bought and paid for ourselves, (or at least bought!) Man's collecting or hoarding proclivities are a product of what we laughingly call civilization. Our cavemen ancestors didn't cart around a lot of useless dodads and whatnots. Why should we? In fact, some of our people in the South still live this simple and carefree life. We remember Uncle Jim, when he moved, all he would do was put out the fire and call the dogs."

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Perkins attended the annual purchasing agents' dinner dance at the Fairmont Hotel and report that one of the highlights and most enjoyable part of the evening was the reunion with one of our illustrious erstwhile commuters, Major Joseph Primeau, and his charming wife, Nell. Major Joe told Stan he anticipated with great pleasure his return to Redwood City to live in the not too distant future.

Commuter Club wives were out in force Saturday at the USO. Those who participated included Chairlady Mrs. Jack Welch, Mesdames Tom Giannini, Wendell Ebner, Norman Meyer, Claude Gerdes, Burt Conroy, William Dobbyn and Stanley Perkins. (A couple of mere husbands who helped Mrs. Gerdes wash and dry dishes all evening decided USO work is not all glamour!)

But the service men sure gave evidence of appreciating the swell food—sandwiches, chocolate cake, coffee etc., a good book or magazine, or a rhumba or enticing waltz with a lovely junior hostess. Mrs. Tom Cutting and others behind the USO program in Redwood City certainly should be congratulated for bringing our boys these moments of relaxation.

Some time ago when the Perkins family lived in San Carlos there was some question as to the sobriety of Stan when he broke his foot. Stan is now entirely exonerated in his own war dept., because the missus this week stepped off the back walk and almost repeated the foot-breaking episode—was unable to get off the ground for 20 minutes, and was not able to walk for four hours.

Now as to Tuesday night! Stan and Bill (Curran) are singing their swan song as directors. It was Stan's turn to entertain the directors' meeting, but due to gas rationing and the fact that the Perkins' estate takes a C card to reach, the party will be held at the home of Bill Curran, 635 Brewster Ave. Meeting is at 6:30. Don't be late! Menu arranged by the great chem, Stan, who promises a great time for all.

After reading this column you will realize why the writers are known only as the "wrecking crew." Let's appreciate the great Caboose!

Mrs. Humphrey Bogart Tells of Italian Famine

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Down in Hollywood last week and had the pleasure of talking with Mrs. Humphrey Bogart about her victory garden and the necessity for all of us growing more food this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bogart spent three months in the European theater, doing one show after another in the USO circuit, and they saw with their own eyes just what a food shortage does to people.

"The Italian civilians have practically no vegetables, and no seeds with which to grow their own food," Mrs. Bogart said. "The result is that the women and children search around the garbage dumps near our camps, looking for scraps of refuse.

"Hunger shows on both the civilians and their dogs, but when our boys move in, everyone begins to look better, within a week. Of course our forces have the best of food, and the closer you travel toward the front lines, the better the fare. Our boys have often skimped themselves a little to share with the starving children," she told me.

"I saw a garbage truck piled high with green carrot tops, old cabbage and lettuce leaves this noon, and I couldn't help but think of the real abundance we've enjoyed so far in this country—to be able to spare those leaves. That truck couldn't have gone a block in any Italian city Bogey and I visited," Mrs. Bogart said. "If would have caused a riot."

Apparently the Italians have a vegetable similar but not identical to our kale. And that's all. No meat, no milk for the children, no immediate hope.

Mrs. Bogart was not trying to put a case for getting food to the Italians faster. Indeed she remarked that up to now, transportation facilities have been taxed getting in necessary military supplies. But having seen thousands of starving people, she'll never forget it.

"If people could only understand what it's like—what a wonderful opportunity they have with their gardens in contrast with Europeans who can't even get seeds."

The experince so impressed Mrs. Bogart that on the return trip, she wirelessed ahead to her gardener to plant every square inch to more vegetables.

"The situation is now a little better in Africa," she remarked. "Our supply lines are better established and seed enough has been sent in so the people can grow food this year."

And the food in our hospitals near the front is excellent, so good that the Bogarts were glad to do shows at the hospitals near meal time.

Once we catch up on the timetable in Europe, food will be sent by the shipload to those starving people just as quickly as space is available. To make sure that there's a continuing abundance in this country, there's only one coure for patriotic American home people . . . GROW MORE IN '44!

Again the question begins to pop up and I thought it was all settled: "Should I irrigate the garden in the morning only, like I've been advised, or is any old time all right?"

The answer is the same as always this year. Do your irrigating early in the morning, so that there will be plenty of water available during the heat of the day. It takes more than an hour to get the water from the surface down to the root area, and them back up towards the foliage. If the soil needs moisture, that water should be applied—should be there, before wilt starts. Wilting leaves set back plant growth materially, even though the condition is corrected quickly.

Surely everyone agrees, that when the leaves of plants, and the top soil are damp at the beginning of an evening, mildew is much more apt to invade the garden.

Walter Rusch Is Missing

MENLO PARK—Good news followed the bad news the family of Walter Rusch received last month, when the 19-year-old former resident of Menlo Park was reported "missing in action."

Two weeks ago his aunt, Mrs. James Harper of 1354 El Camino Real, received a second message from the War Department saying that Walter is safe in a German prison camp. He was a turret gunner on a bomber that was apparently shot down over Europe Mar. 20.

Before Walter entered the army he was a shipyard worker in the Bay Area. He came to Menlo Park about two years ago from Wisconsin to make his home with Mrs. Harper. His father, Louis Rusch, lives in San Jose.

CHURCH: Oscar Peeke Delivers Address Here

"Christian Science: The Religion of Intelligent Thinking and Victorious Living" was the subject of an address given by Oscar Graham Peeke, C.S.B., at the Christian Science Church in Redwood City last Monday night.

Mr. Peeke is a member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Text of the address:

The lecturer gave out among other things some interesting and enlightening statements which Christian Science teaches about healing, prayer, and the Christ. He stated that the Bible shows that all the mighty works which Jesus accomplished so readily and so naturally were resultant from his perfect understanding of true creation, acquired through his marvelous manifestation of the Christ. This healing and saving Christ, as Christian Science demonstrates, is God's divine nature.

As Mary's son, Jesus spoke of himself as the son of man. However, he rightly claimed and fully realized his divine sonship because of "the godliness which animated him," to use an expression from Science and Health (p. 26). He did not arrogate to himself alone the ability to possess the Christ-consciousness. The necessity of its attainment by those he taught before ending them out to heal was the focal point of his teaching. They learned that to possess it in sufficient measure to be able to heal as their Master healed, required self-abnegation and great purity of thought, for Jesus' method involved the ability to discern in place of a sick and sinful mortal, only the real, the perfect man, spiritual and immortal. This was Jesus' simple and only method. It is the only way by which his followers can accomplish Christ-healing. It is the way of Christian Science.

Jesus sometimes referred to himself as the Christ because his consciousness was at all times so thoroughly imbued with the Christ-spirit. This was his true selfhood. He disdained and rebuked personal adoration; and never did he teach that salvation is attainable by believing in his personal selfhood as the Christ. As humanity's Wayshower, he made it quite plain that by becoming imbued with that same godliness with which he was constantly animated, and by emulating him in his Christly works, all may attain full salvation—salvation from sin, sickness, and death.

CHRIST-HEALING IS FOR ALL

It should be understood that no one is debarred from the benefit of Christ-healing. Sometimes a person will say, "I think I am too wicked to be healed in Christian Science." That is not so. Christian Science heals sickness and disease by overcoming wicked thoughts in the human consciousness. It matters not how wicked and diseased an individual may consider himself to be he must, sometime or other—either here or hereafter, through continued suffering or by Christian Science—change his thinking and become regenerated and free. Then why not now? Christ-healing is for all, and "now is the accepted time"—the time to empty the consciousness of whatever the obstructing beliefs may be, so that the Christ may enter in and heal.

HEALING THROUGH READING SCIENCE AND HEALTH

Oftentimes people are healed of diseases just by reading the textbook. In such cases the reader becomes so deeply interested in, and receptive to the spiritual truths which illumine the pages of the book, that these truths literally flood his consciousness with their healing light, thus destroying the dark errors of mortal belief which were the cause of whatever happened to be the discordant condition.

THE POWER OF TRUE PRAYER

Christian Science is the religion of prayer. The motivating power of true prayer is intelligent, that is to say, spiritual thinking—in fact, such thinking is prayer. Thus it may be seen that to pray without ceasing, as Paul admonishes, is both possible and expedient. Prayer enables us to recognize, accept, and utilize God's spiritual bounty, to demonstrate its substantiality and live as victors.

The first chapter in the Christian Science textbook is entitled "Prayer." A Protestant clergyman once said to me, "I wish every child, man, and woman were familiar with the chapter entiled 'Prayer' in Mrs. Eddy's book, Science and Health." Other ministers have made similar statements, and many sermons based on the truths contained in Science and Health are today being preached from Protestant pulpits.

CAMP ENROLLMENTS

San Mateo County Council's Camp Committee, headed by John F. Linden, today announced the 20th annual season of the San Mateo County Boy Scout Training Camp in Memorial County Park near Pescadero, commencing June 25 and ending July 23. Mountain Camp dates are held in abeyance pending settlement of transportation. The camp, as in the past, will be under the personal direction of Edward A. Barrer, county scout executive and Assistant Executive Chet E. Wilson. Assisting will be a staff of experienced scoutmasters and junior leaders.

ENROLLMENT LIMTED

The enrollment is limited to 200 scouts for each session at Pescadero. Applications for enrollment for any of the camp periods is accepted in the order received. Advance indications, said Linden, are that there will be a record enrollment for the 1944 season.

OUTSTANDING CAMP

Camp Pescadero has won recognition as one of the outstanding camps in the country for leadership program and safety. It enjoys a clean bill of health unmarred by a single case of serious accident or sickness for its 20 years of existence. Every precaution is taken to insure health and safety of the scouts during their stay. "That the camp is of direct benefit to health and general physical development is amply attested by actual individual card records of former seasons which show an average gain in weight per boy from 3 to 10 pounds per period spent in camp" said Barrer. For further information scouts and parents may write to scout headquarters, 1204 Burlingame Ave.

O'Brien Protests Bond Publicity

When representatives of the theater industry, the press, and the war finance councils of the Peninsula met this week to greet B. V. Sturdivant, nation campaign director for the motion picture industry's participation in the Fourth War Loan, portest against the type of publicity used to sell war bonds came from C. W. O'Brien, Half Moon Bay banker.

It was after Sturivant had warned against "drive fatigue" and had announced plans for a theater campaign to enlist 400,000 WACs that O'Brien spoke.

B. V. STURDIVANT

"If you're going back to Washington," he told Sturdivant, "you might tell them back there to start their publicity right. It's impossible to say that if you don't buy a bond, the boy on Guadalcanal won't have a rifle. They shouldn't try to kid the public. The army and navy will see to it that the men are armed."

Mrs. Paul Merner of the Palo Alto War Finance Committee said publicity should be developed on the investment angle. She added that in her opinion the bulk purchases by large corporations, such as Southern Pacific, should be added to the state quota alone and not parcelled to the various communities.

"We shouldn't take credit for such purchases," she urged. "We have nothing at all to do with them, and splitting them up merely means more work for the people who sell the bonds."

T. J. Hallinan, Redwood City, argued that the money invested in war bonds should be placed in trust with the government for the duration of the war and not made available for immediate return to the investor.

Sturdivant admitted that the purpose of war loan drives is not to buy rifles but to drain off surplus purchasing power which otherwise would create inflation.

The theaters in this area, said Sturdivant, division manager for Fox West Coast, rivalled any in the nation in performance in the Fourth War Loan. Boston and one other area, not designated, rivalled Northern California, he declared. For this he gave credit to Roy Cooper, Northern California chairman.

The Fifth War Loan quota of 16 billions will present a new challenge, he warned.

To theaters nationally he gave credit for recruting 10 per cent of blood donors, collecting 40 per cent of funds for infantile paralysis, and for more than $10,000,000 raised for the Red Cross.

In response to an urgent appeal from the army, the theaters will undertake to aid WAC recruitment in a campaign to start May 11, Sturdivant announced.

"The WAC is no longer the frosting on the army's cake," Sturdivant declared. "She has proved her importance by performing the many tasks formerly done by men who are needed for combat. General Eisenhower has put through a 'must' order for 50,000 more WACs."

Thanks to the theaters for aid in war loan campaigns was expressed in a resolution offered by David J. Stollery, San Mateo War Finance Committee.

George McQueen, publisher of the Burlingame Advance, was master of ceremonies. The meeting was held at Chartier's, San Mateo.

Guests included:

$50,000 Damage Suit Filed in Court Here

A $50,000 damage suit was filed in superior court here against the Savage Transportation Co. by Mrs. Viola B. Pink ad her daughter, Susan Jane Pink, for injuries received in an automobile accident on the Coastside.

The complaint stated that the accident occurred on Ocean Shore Hwy. near Rockaway Beach Apr. 25 at 2:30 p.m. Both Mrs. Pink and Susan claimed they received numerous injuries and asked $25,000 damages each.

Six Seek Position As Welfare Worker

Workmen are busy in the city hall this week preparing an office for the woman welfare worker in juvenile delinquency, who is to be selected from among six applicants who took the civil service examination Mar. 15.

A partition is being put in the office of Mrs. Florence Donnelly, personnel officer of the Redwood City War Council, on the first floor of the city hall, to provide space for the new worker.

The newly created position was authorized by the Redwood City Council as part of the juvenile delinquency program which is administered by the police department, and other related work.

The position carries a basic salary of $167.50 a month, with a maximum of $187.50, plus a $25 a month wartime bonus.

There have been 694 reported cases of chicken pox in 1944.

Only 12 cases of measles were reported. Mumps were next on the list with six cases. There were four cases of whooping cough in South San Francisco but none in any other part of the county.

Whealen Returned To County Jail

Charles F. Whealen, 19, who allegedly disappeared Oct. 17 with between $85 and $90 from the Redwood Bowl where he was employed, was in the county jail here Wednesday charged with petty theft.

Whealen was returned here Tuesday from Reno, Nev., by Redwood City police. He admitted to investigating officers today that he took $31 from the bowling establishment here.

Dep. Dist Atty. O. M. Van Duyn said that between the time Whealen disappeared from Redwood City and the time of his return here, Whealen spent 30 days in jail for passing fictitious checks in Nevada.

Homemakers' Guide

Julia asks
Have you tried these homemaking ideas?

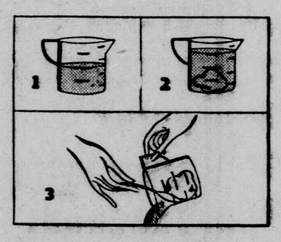
THE OTHER DAY I was browsing through my files—just looking for answers to questions—and I came across some that appealed to me as having a special interest. I jotted them down right away, thinking you might be able to make use of them too.

For example, I searched for a simple answer to the question, "Why does the lower crust of pie turn out soggy?" Here it is: If the oven is not hot enough (450° F.) when the pie is first put in, the bottom crust does not set quickly and becomes soaked with pie juices.

And someone wanted to know how to make Fluffy French Toast. It's an exciting delicacy: Allow one egg, 1 tablespoon milk, and one thick slice of bread per person; beat egg whites and yolks separately, adding milk and seasonings to yolks; fold well-beaten yolks into stiffly beaten egg whites; dip slices of the bread into the mixture and fry in deep fat (360° to 375° F.) the same as doughnuts; serve immediately with syrup and crisp bacon.

And another had said, "My recipe calls for shortening and butter—what can I substitute?" For one cup, you can substitute one cup of margarine, or ⅞ cup of lard, or oil, or bacon fat.

And—"How do I measure shortening accurately, so there's no waste?" That's easy. Just follow these drawings:



(1. measuring cup filled with water to ½-cup level
2. solid shortening added so water is at ¾-cup level
3. water poured off, with spoon holding shortening)

The example given there is for ¼ cup (4 tablespoonfuls) of shortening, but it can obviously be adapted to any standard measurement.

Another question was, "What should I use in place of a pastry blender—because I haven't one?" Well, here are two practical substitutes: use a wire potato masher, or work two knives crosswise.

"Chocolate," said another correspondent, "is my worry—what can I use in place of it?" For a 1-oz. cake, you can substitute ¼ cup of cocoa plus 1 tbsp. shortening; or ¼ cup of ground chocolate.

Finally, here's an old-fashioned answer to the question, "What should I use if I have no cookie sheet?": Use the back of any baking pan.
